

CDW Canada Secures Apple Premium Business Partner and Apple Premium Education Partner Status

Dual authorizations recognize CDW Canada's ability to deploy and manage Apple technology at scale

Etobicoke, ON – September 28, 2026

CDW Canada, a leading provider of technology solutions and services for Canadian organizations, today announced it has achieved Apple Premium Business Partner and Apple Premium Education Partner status. The designations recognize CDW Canada's Apple expertise and its ability to deliver full life cycle services, helping businesses and educational institutions procure, deploy, manage and support Apple technology at scale.

These designations reinforce CDW Canada's position as a trusted advisor for customers modernizing their workplace and learning environments with Apple. Through its dedicated Apple practice, CDW Canada delivers Apple Business and Apple School Manager implementation, device provisioning, mobile device management, professional learning, managed services and lifecycle optimization, helping customers integrate Apple technology into existing IT infrastructure and realize greater value from their investments.

"Earning both Apple Premium Business Partner and Apple Premium Education Partner designations reflects CDW Canada's commitment to building one of the most comprehensive Modern Workspace practices in the country," said Ginette Adragna, Senior Vice President & General Manager, CDW Canada. "Whether supporting a national enterprise transforming employee experiences or a school board advancing digital learning, customers trust us to combine deep Apple expertise, industry knowledge and technical services."

As organizations and educational institutions continue to transform the way people work, teach, learn and collaborate, CDW Canada remains committed to delivering the expertise, services and support required to help customers realize the full value of their Apple investments.

From Apple strategy and adoption planning through zero-touch deployment, managed services and device refresh, CDW Canada supports customers at every stage of the Apple lifecycle, backed by Apple-certified professionals and national services delivery capabilities.

"Schools and post-secondary institutions need digital learning that is secure, accessible and sustainable across a full device refresh cycle," continued Adragna. "That means thinking beyond the initial rollout, to how devices are managed, refreshed and eventually recovered and how educators are supported throughout. We have been doing this work with school boards, colleges and universities across Canada for years, and this authorization recognizes that."
