Connect, secure and automate your business.

Cisco Smart Networking Solutions

Rapid change is today's normal. AI, IoT, multicloud, 5G and an ever-expanding universe of devices are reshaping the technology landscape, while applications and users grow more distributed and threats more sophisticated. Because the network is the common tissue that connects users, devices and applications, organizations need a smarter, more adaptive network. Cisco Smart Networking Solutions, delivered with CDW, connect, secure and automate your business — from user to application in a cloud-first world.

Cisco Smart Networking Solutions can help you achieve:

Finding the Right Solution

When modernizing your network, organizations benefit from following a tried-and-true framework. Together, CDW and Cisco deliver customized services at every stage of the networking lifecycle:

- Consulting services explore the right intent-based networking approach for your organization, pairing Cisco platforms — Catalyst, Meraki, ISE and ThousandEyes — with a solution built for your needs.
- Assessments review your current infrastructure, segmentation and security posture to ready your environment for a zero-trust, controller-based architecture.
- Design and planning optimize your access, WAN and data center domains for performance, resiliency and secure end-to-end connectivity.
- Implementation services configure and deploy your Cisco solution with minimal downtime across campus, branch, WAN, data center and multicloud.
- Managed services hand off monitoring, maintenance and reporting to our experts, with AI-enabled insights and closed-loop automation keeping your network optimized.

CDW + CISCO NETWORKING

With networking demands constantly evolving, your organization needs a trusted partner to design, orchestrate and manage reliable solutions. Cisco is the only vendor with the enterprise-wide architecture to deliver closed-loop, intent-based networking across every domain — access, WAN, data center and cloud. As a Cisco partner, CDW's experts take a lifecycle approach to delivering Cisco Smart Networking Solutions, following industry-leading practices so every deployment goes smoothly and you can focus on the business value that matters.
