Detect attacks in real-time and respond directly to threats.

Managed Security Services for Defender XDR and Sentinel

The need for managed security services is driven by the increasing complexity of IT infrastructures, the rise in sophisticated cyber threats, and the growing adoption of cloud storage and big data analytics. As organizations face heightened risks from cyber-attacks, outsourcing security to specialized providers helps mitigate these threats effectively.

CDW provides four tiers of managed security services that utilize Microsoft Defender and Microsoft Sentinel. These services integrate advanced threat detection and automated correlation capabilities with analyst-led triage and investigation to ensure effective threat response and containment

Managed Security Services for Defender XDR and Sentinel delivered by CDW's experienced team, can help you achieve:

Operational Efficiencies   Agility   Reduced Risk

Finding the Right Solution

Managed Security Services for Defender XDR and Sentinel includes the following benefits:

- Advanced Threat Detection: Leveraging AI and automation, these services can detect and halt sophisticated cyberattacks quickly, reducing response times and limiting potential damage

- Holistic Security Insights: By correlating signals from various sources, Defender XDR provides a comprehensive view of an attack's lifecycle, ensuring no part of the chain is overlooked.

- Accelerated Response: These services deliver unified protection and quick response capabilities across multiple environments, including endpoints, IoT devices, hybrid identities, email collaboration tools, SaaS applications, cloud workloads and data.

- Cost Effective and Scalable: By leveraging cloud technology, Sentinel helps reduce the costs associated with legacy SIEM systems while providing a scalable solution that grows with your organization's needs.
