CLIENT SUCCESS STORY

CHALLENGE: The client decided to move its infrastructure to the cloud and leverage Azure, but they lacked the experience and resources to manage their costs efficiently and effectively. Over time their costs increased steadily without consistent governance.

SOLUTION: CDW designed a tagging strategy which allowed the customer to view by department each resource utilization and cost. We created automation tasks to shut down development resources when not in use to save money, and consulted with the client on how they could rightsize their virtual machines.

RESULT: The client saw instant benefits from the tagging strategy. Each department received custom reports regarding their cloud expenses. CDW helped contain the client's cloud costs and allowed for organic growth in the cloud.
