

WE GET THE COMPLEX DECISIONS REQUIRED IN YOUR WORK FROM HOME STRATEGY.

CDW Work From Home Solutions
Work From Home Assessment

Having the right data is critical to your organization's go-forward strategy for working from home. How productive are your workers? What technology barriers are worth the investment to overcome? Would those investments free up other costs that would help your bottom line?

CDW's Work From Home Assessment maps your end users' current experience and develops comprehensive recommendations to rapidly create or enhance your organization's work from home solution.

CDW's Work From Home Assessment can help you achieve:

-  Operational Efficiencies
-  Reduced Risk
-  Increased Performance

Orchestrating the Right Solution

CDW applies our deep device and orchestration expertise to help you take the strategic steps necessary for making the most of your end users' digital experience.

Our Work From Home Assessment evaluates the end-user experience in several areas, including devices, app and data access, networking, security and support. The engagement includes:

- User and device data that give you a clear understanding of the unique use cases and personas in your environment
- Meaningful interviews with IT support leaders to validate our findings on your current-state environment
- An analysis that determines the health of the end-user experience using real-world data
- Development of recommendations to help you optimize your environment

The assessment provides data to help you:

- Make better-informed technology choices
- Understand the options available to you so you can streamline support and create a better user experience
- Create a plan to go further, faster

CDW's full lifecycle of Services can support your business no matter where you are on your journey
